

The changing world climate has brought about an increased awareness of the importance of international education. As more high school students seek to study overseas, institutions must offer a diverse array of programs. Administrations have found that faculty-led international study programs provide an attractive addition to their study abroad offerings and help to internationalize their campuses. AYUSA Study Abroad is a division of Intrax Cultural Exchange. For more than 25 years, Intrax has partnered with educational institutions to create customized faculty-led study abroad programs. ASA offers comprehensive program management ranging from program development to operation. Each ASA program will minimize the time and effort required by faculty members and administration. We handle the details, allowing administrators and faculty to focus their attention on what they know best— their students.

WE DEVELOP AND COORDINATE YOUR PROGRAM ITINERARY

ASA works with faculty leaders to develop unique programs which reflect their individual curriculum while meeting the time constraints and financial needs of their students. Our seasoned staff will develop a customized program to virtually any destination outside North America, based on your curriculum and academic goals. Faculty members will have more time to spend directly with students in recruitment efforts and pre-program preparation. International programs staff will have more time to increase overall participation in international education.

WE HANDLE ALL OF YOUR LOGISTICAL ARRANGEMENTS INCLUDING:

- Academic coordination, including classroom space, lectures and site visits.
- 24-hour on-site management and emergency assistance.
- All accommodations and transportation, including flights, hotels, ground transportation and meals.
- All student enrollment and accounting, including registration, collection of participation fees, pre-departure information, dissemination and payment for all services.

WE OFFER AFFORDABLE, INCLUSIVE PRICING

Leveraging the scope, experience and relationships of the Intrax family of companies, which operates hundreds of programs each year, ASA gives your participants an affordable, high-quality study abroad program. Our program price will include flights, ground transportation, accommodations, local assistance, special program elements, entrance fees, most meals, and any other item necessary to provide a quality academic and cultural experience for your students. We also include all taxes, insurance fees and service charges, so there are no hidden charges.

WE PROVIDE HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE

All participants (including faculty leaders) are covered by a comprehensive accident and sickness insurance policy. A 24-hour help center, linked to this insurance coverage, is always available to provide assistance for any need, medical or otherwise.

As an added layer of protection, AYUSA Study Abroad maintains a $10,000,000 general liability policy through our parent organization. A certificate of insurance is provided upon request.

WE MINIMIZE YOUR RISK

Traditional methods of planning faculty-led programs require risking large deposits or payments should a participant cancel or the entire group choose not to travel. ASA offers a cancellation waiver for a nominal fee, allowing your participants to cancel up to three business days prior to departure and receive a full refund. We also offer your institution a number of flexible options for full group changes or cancellation. No other organization offers such protection.
